Company formation

When incorporating a company, our tax accountants are aware that the needs and objectives of each client may be different and we therefore establish tax-efficient structures to suit your particular requirements. As part of our incorporation services we will also assist you in making the right choice of type, name of company and jurisdiction. The minimum share capital required to set up a company in Malta is €1,200. Only 20% of the share capital needs to be paid-up.

As opposed to other legal systems, Maltese law does not allow companies to adopt a standard Memorandum & Articles of Association enabling a company to undertake any legal activity under the general objective of 'doing business'. However, its objects may include any business or investment activity or trading interests in and/or outside Malta.

It is therefore essential that upon an application for incorporation each new company presents a tailor made set of constitutive documents highlighting the specific needs and objectives of the company. Our corporate team will help you create the necessary framework so that your new company is enabled to undertake the desired trading, holding or other activities.

At Accounting Services we pride ourselves in the fact that our clients entrust us on a yearly basis with administrative, accounting and auditing responsibilities which are essential to the creation and maintenance of business operations in Malta. To be able to help our clients reach their goals, we are fully aware of the importance of giving clear and factual advice together with solutions in a timely and efficient manner.
