Accounting Services Ltd in collaboration with Step Enterprises, the ISO Specialist presents ISO 9001.

What is ISO 9001?

ISO 9001 is the mark of a successful business. It provides all the advantages of an internationally recognised standard of quality management, which in the right hands, is straightforward to implement.

What can you get from ISO 9001?

ISO 9001 has a number of direct and indirect benefits, including:

- Removes bottlenecks - Done by having different people capable of doing most processes, freeing up the director's or other employees' time to allow these key people to focus on growing the business.
- Measures performance - Done by creating simple systems (in most cases, an excel sheet), to gather data that can be analysed to identify the progress being made and possible areas for improvement. This results in a higher probability of reaching the targets set.
- Monitors employee accountability - Done by having defined roles and responsibilities that are documented and well communicated to employees, resulting in less time consumed to manage employees and provides a structure for new recruits.
- Sets systems to achieve improvement - Done by installing a mentality of continual improvement within a company allowing the company to consistently meet and exceed the requirements of customers, shareholders, suppliers, and employees.

What interests you, given your current situation?

If you can see any of the above points having a positive impact on your professional life, ISO 9001 is the right solution for you. Contact us today for more info.
